WHY ARE WE COMPLIANT?

It is important to understand what this law hopes to achieve when establishing if a lead supplier is compliant. The law was created to prevent unregulated companies contacting (in many cases) elderly or vulnerable individuals and convincing them to switch their pension funds into unregulated scam schemes on the promise of high returns or a lump sum of cash, inevitably the individuals funds would then be lost.

With the introduction of the new law, It is hoped that individuals will no longer receive unsolicited calls for unregulated pension advice and in addition create awareness surrounding pension fraud.

It is important to remember the law was not formed to prevent nor hinder legitimate businesses and FCA regulated advisers who offer regulated pension advice from operating.

Law Exemptions

The law makes provision for exemptions to enable legitimate businesses to operate, the exemptions included are as follows:

- FCA registered advisers are permitted to contact consumers who consent to calls
- B2B outbound calling is exempt from the new laws (except specifically for pension)
- FCA registered advisers are permitted to contact individuals where an existing relationship exists
- In all cases the individual must be able to easily refuse or revoke the right to be contacted in the future should they wish

Proconnect have been proactively involved in the government consultation providing evidence and information relating to the legitimate pension advice industry to help form the new law. We have also fully consulted with the Information Commissioners Office (ICO) who have confirmed our services are compliant under the new law using the methods outlined.

Lead Source Analysis

The table below clearly shows our lead sources for our pension appointments and lead generation services. As you will see all of our lead sources are compliant and allowed under the law.

Lead Source	Compliance
Inbound Enquiries	Permitted
B2B Outbound Calling For Financial Services (excluding pension advice)	Permitted
Existing Clientbase	Permitted
Consented Leads	Permitted

When making financial advice appointments with our lead sources we always explain that all the advisers we work on behalf of are FCA registered and the prospect must fully consent for contact from the adviser prior to an appointment being made. We keep evidence of this consent should it be required due to a compliance issue. All of the data we use also meets both GDPR and PECR requirements.
